

All babies have one thing in common.

They need healthy moms.

Any drug you take (pills, alcohol, tobacco) can affect your baby—even in small amounts. That could put your child at risk for serious health conditions. Don't hesitate to ask your doctor about any drug—legal or not. Or call our hotline and talk to someone ready to listen. We're here to help, not to judge. And we can help you—and your baby.
